MAY 15, 2023 - NextFive, a visionary organization committed to bringing together innovative thinkers and change-makers to positively transform the world over the next five years, is pleased to announce the first NextFive event will take place at the Overland Park Convention Center in Kansas City on November 10, 2023. This event is open to all leaders, innovators, mentors, influencers, and boundary pushers who are passionate about driving positive change and defining the future of the next five years. Register now and plan to learn, collaborate, share passionate discussions and leave inspired.

NextFive co-founders include Ben Clayton, Aaron Blythe, and Dustin Holub.

Ben, a seasoned cloud and virtualization expert with a strong commitment to driving positive change, co-founded NextFive to create a collaborative community that will inspire creative innovative solutions to challenge the status quo and pave the way for a brighter future.

Aaron, a skilled hacker, and software architect, is deeply committed to collaborating with other visionaries to create a positive impact on the world. He strongly believes in the power of new and emerging technologies to drive change and improve people's lives.

Dustin, a true believer in the power of collaboration and a passionate advocate for the DevOps culture, co-founded NextFive to team up with like-minded futurists, leaders and innovators to create a collective vision on how we can leverage emerging technologies to change the world for the better.

Together, Ben, Aaron, and Dustin are leading the charge in creating a better future through open discussion and collaboration. NextFive's mission is to bring together visionaries, innovators, game changers, disruptors, and dreamers to collaborate to positively transform the world over the next five years by harnessing the power of new and emerging technologies.

"We are excited to bring together individuals who share a passion for open discussion, collaboration and a vision for a brighter future," said Ben, co-founder of NextFive. "By working together, we can unlock the true potential of technology and make a positive impact on the world."

"NextFive is about bringing people together to create a vision for the future of the next five years," added Aaron, co-founder of NextFive. "We are excited to learn from and inspire one another as we work towards a common goal."

Dustin, co-founder of NextFive, concluded, "Our mission is to harness the power of new and emerging technologies to make the world a better place. We believe that by working together, we can make a positive impact on the world over the next five years and beyond."
